

Celebrating

THE BIRTH OF Christ

RESURRECTION
CATHOLIC CHURCH
KINGS PARK

WELCOME BIENVENUE

Fr Gerard Keith

Dear Parishioners, Visitors and Friends,

As we gather to celebrate Christmas, another year has passed with many events, public and private, touching our lives and those of the people in our parish community in various ways. No doubt, 2018 has brought its joys and sadness in different measure to each person: all colouring our memories of this past year. Let us continue to strive to open our hearts to others, especially being aware of those who have lost a loved one since last Christmas, or the many over-burdened by worries, sickness and family problems or for any other reason. This year, we are invited by Pope Francis to be instruments of mercy, which means that we have to open our hearts to those living on the outmost fringes of society. We are called to believe that no one is ever beyond hope, past the point where God's grace and love apply to them. God does not give up on people, even if they give up on themselves. This Christmas, may we reflect on the Incarnation as God's invitation to us to see Him in our brothers and sisters who are hurting.

Christmas is an opportunity to thank so many parishioners who give abundantly of their time and talents in making our parish the vibrant, faith-filled community that it is. It is calculated that over 500 parishioners take an active part in some form of ministry or parish activity. To these volunteers who are the heartbeat of the parish, I am truly grateful.

This year the highlight for me has been the celebration of our rich multicultural community. I thoroughly enjoy and am inspired by the various communities who share their cultural expressions of faith. In this sharing we are all enrich.

May I take this opportunity to thank all our parishioners and friends here at Resurrection for helping us along the journey; a special thank you to the Parish Staff for their support throughout the year. To all parishioners, for your prayers, gifts, cards, and good wishes and for all that you do.

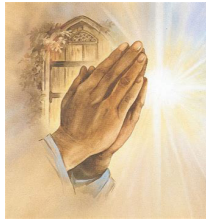

Many Blessings,

Fr Gerard Keith

We pray in thanksgiving for the life of a
and all those who have died recently.

We pray for all those whose anniversaries occur at about this time.

We also pray for all those who are sick.

As we look upon the crib scene in our churches and our homes, we see simplicity yet peace.
How can I bring some simplicity of life and peace into my Christmas celebrations with family and friends through my words and actions?

Are you thinking of becoming a Catholic?

R.C.I.A.

Becoming a Catholic – You are not alone.

Becoming a Catholic is not just about being part of a church; it is about sharing with the faith community. The team are ready to welcome and accompany you on your journey towards Christ as a member of the Catholic Community. It is the Holy Spirit who has led you this far and will invite you to open your heart and your life to God.

We meet on regularly on Monday nights, and discuss a number of topics. Who is Jesus? The Bible, Sacraments, our faith, share our stories. For example the other night we started a session discussing the Sacraments, they all started with Jesus, and we ended up discussing marriage and the new laws that are about to take place.

It's an incredible journey that you will undertake; it's a life-transforming journey, a journey that begins by contacting our Parish Priest Fr Gerard (gerard.keith@cam.org.au) or our RCIA Coordinator Pauline (pauline.debrincat@cam.org.au).

You are always welcome to come and have a chat and see what it is all about, no strings attached.

We proclaim a crucified Christ

1Cor1.23

Dear Priests and Deacons,

You may have heard discussion in the media about the Church's participation in the National Redress Scheme for survivors of institutional child sexual abuse. The Archdiocese is committed to joining this Scheme. Senior church officials have spent the past few months finalising the procedures and documentation required for all dioceses linked to the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference to join the Scheme. This has been a complex process both for Church entities and for the Commonwealth Government.

A special company has been established, Australian Catholic Redress Ltd, by which dioceses will interact with the Redress Scheme. This week the bishops of Australia are signing the Participation Deeds by which their dioceses will join the Company and hence the Redress Scheme. For the Archdiocese the canonical approvals have been obtained and the Participation Deed signed and sent to Australian Catholic Redress Ltd. It is anticipated that the various legal formalities including the issuing by the responsible Minister of a declaration admitting the Archdiocese together with other dioceses to the scheme will be completed in the coming weeks thereby allowing survivors of child abuse in Catholic parishes and institutions to apply for redress.

A number of Catholic religious congregations have indicated that they will separately join the National Scheme.

The Catholic Church, like other bodies and indeed some State governments, is not delaying its participation in the Redress Scheme, but simply taking the necessary time in conjunction with the Commonwealth to put the most appropriate procedures in place.

Survivors of institutional child sexual abuse are encouraged to approach the Redress Scheme or to approach the Church directly should they wish to do so.

With every grace and blessing, I remain,

Yours sincerely in Christ Jesus,

Most Rev Peter A Comensoli

Apricot Chicken

Linda Bailey

While I love cooking my family great meals, there are some things that tip me over the edge.

Acts 15:1-21

Reference: “It is my judgment, therefore, that we should not make it difficult for the Gentiles who are turning to God. (Acts 15:19 NIV)

Explore: For some reason I always struggle to find apricot nectar on the supermarket shelf. It’s a normal sized can with a picture of an apricot on it, however, it’s the most illusive item in the whole shop.

It’s an essential ingredient to making Apricot Chicken, which is one of my family’s favourite dishes. It’s easy to make and a taste sensation once baked.

When looking for the essential nectar I always start off in the canned fruit aisle. It seems that the supermarkets do not consider the nectar of apricot made out of fruit! Then I head into the baking section, which is a rookie mistake that I seem to make EVERY time.

Finally I arrive in the correct location, the juice aisle. You would think that I finally reach success here, but often the can is either up too high, or out of stock, that I throw my hands up in the air and give up.

While I love cooking my family great meals, there are some things that tip me over the edge. Surely there’s a meal that causes me less stress than Apricot Chicken!

Application: Our family is blessed to have a whole range of options for a meal, so removing apricot chicken from the menu is not going to affect our future. However, there are often hurdles that come into our lives which can stop us from doing really important things.

A bad mark on an assignment can stop us from trying hard with other assessments; a close friend who suddenly passes away can stop us from getting close to anyone again; a big binge on food can stop us from trying to get back on the healthy bandwagon. It’s sad when barriers get in the way of important things in our lives.

It’s even worse when these barriers did not have to be there in the first place. Often we put certain criteria in place to protect that which is important to us, and yet, that criteria often excludes others.

This happened in the early church. A new group of people were coming to faith and the older believers were struggling to adapt to include them.

There are some things in our faith that are non-negotiable. However, there is a great deal to our faith that is best practice for us. This doesn’t mean that we should judge others for not doing likewise, or exclude them for doing differently.

If there’s anything we can learn about Christ it is His constant acceptance of ALL people. Let’s not hold so tightly to our religion that we lose sight of our Saviour.

Prayer: Lord, You are more powerful than any barrier we can create, but help us to embrace people rather than push them away from Your love. Amen.

When have you experienced a barrier in your life?

Moving House

Linda Bailey

I knew that we had moved a little bit, but it wasn’t until I did the math that I realised how often we actually shifted.

Acts 14:21-28

Reference: And they stayed there a long time with the disciples. (Acts 14:28 NIV)

Explore: In the 11 years that my husband and I have been married, we’ve moved 6 times. Wow, I knew that we had moved a little bit, but it wasn’t until I did the math that I realised how often we actually shifted.

Each time we move I make a concerted effort to get to know my neighbours. Waving to each other as we put out the bins is one thing, but I’ve strived to build decent relationships with those who live nearby.

The last house we lived in I was more successful than previous attempts. I was a similar age to my neighbours and they were always up for a chat when I made the time.

Unfortunately, we moved house again before we had the chance to really build life-long friendships. There are a few friendships that happen instantly, however, most relationships take an extended period of time to build.

Application: Life can get so busy that we don’t take the time to make new friends and cultivate new relationships. Due to our regular moving I have not been able to maintain any of my previous neighbourly relationships, besides a bit of Facebook interaction.

You can really make a difference if you settle for an extended period of time, allowing relationships to grow and trust to develop.

It’s the same with discipleship. Many people don’t instantly become a follower of God as soon as they hear the good news. It often takes a long period of time, with a faithful friend, to gradually chip away at the barriers of disbelief.

We can sometimes focus too much on the next best thing rather than settling into our current positions and building great relationships that develop faith. Let’s not rush into moving and changing but recognise that there is a time to move but also a time to plant our feet.

Prayer: Lord, when things get tough it often feels easier to just pick up and move on. Help us to persevere through trials so that we come to rely on You and to build the strong relationships that are needed to openly share Your love. Amen.

What are the benefits for you to stay where you currently are?

ST VINCENT DE PAUL

Karen and the St Vincent De Paul Group would like to thank all the generous parishioners who have given wonderful hampers, toys and donations to our conference for Christmas.

A special thanks to Mary Ann Psalia and her group for raising $700 to go towards our Christmas for St Vinnie's families, couples and single people in our community.

We also received cash notes in poor box anonymously which was very touching. A thank you to Frank Grech for making our wooden Christmas tree, which he carved for us and not forgetting Andrew and Anna Cassar for making the tags to hang on our tree at Resurrection church.

Another thank you to Resurrection Primary School for their food and toys and CRC St Albans for their toys and food items from 5 year 7 Christmas trees, that the students have every year. Both the school and college have been assisting us for many years and students love to help.

We have Fr Gerard helping us and supplying his garage for storage for food items.

Finally, without Karen D'Souza who tirelessly worked by helping start the breakfast program at Resurrection Primary School.

She also started helping year 7 students with books and uniforms who can't afford to pay for them because of financial difficulties.

Karen has made a big difference too many people in our community.

All the money raised and sold in our shops goes to all these programs which make a happier society for families and single people.

Our members who work in all different fields bring their gifts to our group and we have fun together assisting people in need which makes it all worthwhile.

The Parable of the Good Samaritan

But a Samaritan while travelling came near him; and when he saw him, he was moved with pity. He went to him and bandaged his wounds, having poured oil and wine on them. Then he put him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and took care of him. The next day he took out two denarii, gave them to the innkeeper, and said, “Take care of him; and when I come back, I will repay you whatever more you spend.”

LUKE 10: 33–35

Reflecting on the image

In this parable Jesus uses the image of a foreigner to illustrate what mercy truly means. The neighbours we are commanded to love, and show mercy toward, include those who are not of our own faith or nationality, and who may even be our enemies.

Spend some time with this image by Vincent Van Gogh. Observe how the sky is being torn apart by the power of this story. Observe the effort the Samaritan is putting into aiding the wounded man. Observe that, although traditional enemies, the two men are physically intertwined as human beings. How does this image challenge me to show or to receive mercy?

Praying with the image

Reflect on the quality of mercy in the following words from Shakespeare:

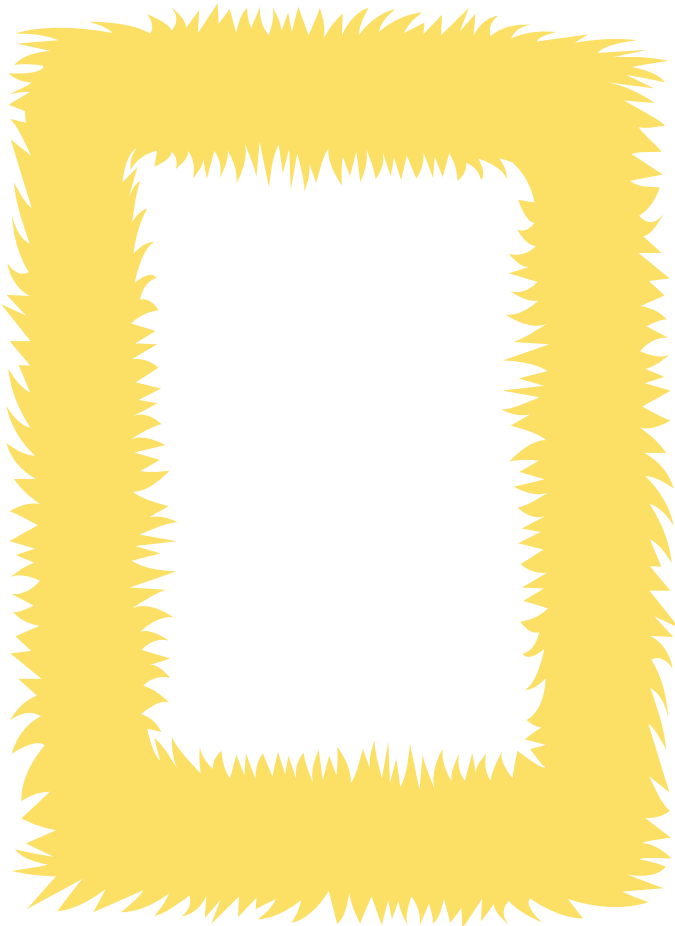

*The quality of mercy is not strain'd.
It droppeth as the gentle rain
from heaven
Upon the place beneath.
It is twice blest:
It blesseth him that gives,
and him that takes.*

Sir 3:2-6, 12-14

God sets a father in honor over his children; a mother's authority he confirms over her sons. Whoever honors his father atones for sins, and preserves himself from them. When he prays, he is heard; he stores up riches who reveres his mother. Whoever honors his father is gladdened by children, and, when he prays, is heard. Whoever reveres his father will live a long life; he who obeys his father brings comfort to his mother. My son, take care of your father when he is old; grieve him not as long as he lives. Even if his mind fail, be considerate of him; revile him not all the days of his life; kindness to a father will not be forgotten, firmly planted against the debt of your sins—a house raised in justice to you.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 84:2-3, 5-6, 9-10.

R. (cf. 5a) Blessed are they who dwell in your house, O Lord.

1 Jn 3:1-2, 21-24

Beloved:

See what love the Father has bestowed on us that we may be called the children of God. And so we are. The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Beloved, we are God's children now; what we shall be has not yet been revealed. We do know that when it is revealed we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. Beloved, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have confidence in God and receive from him whatever we ask, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And his commandment is this: we should believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another just as he commanded us. Those who keep his commandments remain in him, and he in them, and the way we know that he remains in us is from the Spirit he gave us.

Gospel

Lk 2:41-52

Each year Jesus' parents went to Jerusalem for the feast of Passover, and when he was twelve years old, they went up according to festival custom. After they had completed its days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem, but his parents did not know it. Thinking that he was in the caravan, they journeyed for a day and looked for him among their relatives and acquaintances, but not finding him, they returned to Jerusalem to look for him. After three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions, and all who heard him were astounded at his understanding and his answers. When his parents saw him, they were astonished, and his mother said to him, "Son, why have you done this to us? Your father and I have been looking for you with great anxiety." And he said to them, "Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house?" But they did not understand what he said to them. He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was obedient to them; and his mother kept all these things in her heart. And Jesus advanced in wisdom and age and favor before God and man.

"See what love the Father has given us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are." 1 JOHN 3:1

During this season of giving, let us remember the most important gift we have received – being children of God. As God's children, it's important that we express our love for others as well. Tell your spouse, children and other family members and friends that you love them, frequently.
